Library to present Korean Drum and Dance on May 9 at Dante Hall

The Atlantic City Free Public Library will present a special performance by Vongku Pak's Korean Drum and Dance Troupe at 2 p.m. Saturday, May 9, at Dante Hall, located at 10 North Mississippi Avenue. This event is in celebration of May being Asian Pacific American Heritage Month.

This performance will showcase the different possibilities while playing the suljangu, the distinctive Korean drum which has become a signature instrument in traditional music. The drum's distinctive hourglass shape gives it two different tones, bass and treble.

Group founder Vongku Pak has been featured in tours of Europe and Korea, at Carnegie Hall, The Out of Doors Festival at Lincoln Center, plus on Fox TV's Good Day New York and recordings by Ishle Yi Park and by Xtatika.

The program is free, and registration is not required. Please call (609) 345-2269, ext. 3115, for more information.
